

DR. BENJAMIN G. DOMB

evolution of a Sports Medicine Surgeon

Dr. Benjamin G. Domb knew early in life that he would one day become an orthopedic surgeon, and his 17-year career path reflects that focus and drive. The timeline below illustrates Domb's journey to becoming the medical director of the Hip Center of Excellence at Adventist Hinsdale Hospital, and an innovator in the field of sports medicine – a journey that first passed through the Ivy League, America's most prestigious medical school and specialized surgical training facilities across the world. At every turn, Domb has consistently and thoroughly combined a passion for medicine, technology and sports with intellect, precision and curiosity.

---

2010 / Adventist Hinsdale Hospital (IL) / Named Medical Director of the new Hip Center of Excellence

---

2008-Present / Loyola University Stritch School of Medicine (IL) / Youngest Clinical Instructor at the Time of Joining Faculty

---

2007-Present / Hinsdale Orthopedic Associates (IL) / Began Practicing Sports Medicine and Arthroscopic Surgery

---

2007 / Various medical institutes (NY, CA, CO, TN, Switzerland) / Created Fellowship in Hip Arthroscopy and Joint Restoration

---

2006-2007 / LA Lakers, Dodgers, Kings and Galaxy (CA) / Served as Assistant Team Physician

---

2006-2007 / Kerlan-Jobe Orthopedic Clinic (CA) / Completed Sports Medicine / Orthopedic Surgery Fellowship

---

2005 / Hadassah Hospital (Israel) / Completed Orthopedic Trauma Traveling Fellowship

---

2001-2006 / Hospital for Special Surgery (NY) / Completed Orthopedic Surgery Residency

---

1997-2001 / Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine (MD) / Earned Doctorate of Medicine

---

1997 / Barcelona (Spain) / Played Professional Basketball for the Juventud Team

---

1993-1997 / Princeton University (NJ) / Earned Bachelor of Arts in Biology, Magna Cum Laude

---

1993-1997 / Princeton University Men's Basketball Team (NJ) / Played on Team that Upset UCLA in NCAA Tournament in 1996

---

DR. BENJAMIN G. DOMB

Orthopaedic surgeon specializing in sports medicine and arthroscopic surgery of the hip, knee, shoulder and elbow

