Dr Benjamin G. Domb

MD

American Hip Institute, Chicago

Dr. Benjamin Domb is an orthopedic surgeon specializing in Sports Medicine and Hip Arthroscopy. He has been rated amongst the Top Doctors in the USA by the NY Times, US News & World Report, and Castle Connelly. He is the founder and Chair of the American Hip Institute Research Foundation, a non-profit organization dedicated to educating, innovating, and improving the minimally invasive treatment of hip injuries.

Dr. Domb has treated numerous professional, Olympic, and elite level athletes, including NFL, NBA, and NHL players. Dr. Domb is amongst the most experienced Hip Arthroscopy surgeons in the world, and was the first surgeon in the United States to perform outpatient Robotic Hip Replacement. He is the inventor of cutting edge techniques in hip arthroscopy to repair injuries such as a torn labrum, impingement, and gluteus medius tears.

Dr Domb, is a long term member of ISHA and is a member of ISHA's Executive Board. Dr Domb looks forward to utilising the latest wearable smart glasses technology during this broadcast.

ISHA would like to acknowledge our Society Diamond Partners and their support that has enabled the hosting of the ISHA Live Surgery series.
